When the legislature repealed the financial Responsibility act did it apply to OUI offenses as well as driving while suspended? When was it effective?

Lexis only says the law is repealed, but doesn't give me the statute for the repeal.

Is it effective yet for violations written after the repeal or is it being phased in gradually?

Don,

Take a look at MCL 257.732a. (Make sure you type the "a" when doing the search). The responsibility fees are being phased out gradually consistent with that statute. Beginning October 2019 fees will no longer be assessed. The statute will answer your question about OUI offenses.
